

The memorandum of understanding and the agreement concerning accreditation and recognition

On behalf of the scientists of Académie Européenne de l'Informatisation - AEI, set up by Royal Decree in Belgium, the scientists of World Information Distributed University – WIDU registered in Switzerland and RF on the one hand, and on behalf of the scientists of The Indian Management Academy – IMA on the other hand,

in the frame of “Global Education System” (GES)

Parties consider it necessary to train and certify high skilled experts having thorough knowledge in different branches of science and technology and consequently possessing the highest qualification to solve Global Problems that worldwide society faces with. Both Parties note the exceptional importance of implementation of GES providing for extra two-tier postgraduate education (International PhD and Grand PhD) over national graduate system (BS, MS, PhD). National PhD diploma holders who published more than 15-20 scientific papers and an original thesis (for International PhD) and one hundred scientific papers, three or more monographs and who engaged in supervision a minimum of 10-20 PhD students (for Grand PhD) are eligible for admission to the second tier of postgraduate doctoral studies that focuses on Grand PhD training.

The diplomas of International Doctor of Philosophy (International PhD) and Grand Doctor of Philosophy (Grand PhD) granted by the WIDU and the AEI, as well as the certificates Associate Professor and the Full Professor and assistant Professor have been duly verified and authenticated, which hereby grant the above mentioned persons the same rights, namely, to carry out corresponding research and educational activities in accordance with the academic degrees and the status conferred to them after they have passed the recertification procedure.

Both Parties mark the particular importance of creation of mutual Departments, organized on principles of distribution positions of professors and students in the whole world.

Both Parties intend to reinforce European Association of Universities and Higher Schools (EAUHS) and African-Middle East Association of Universities of Global Education System (AMEAUGES). They together with WIDU adopt Ph.D. and Grand Ph.D. doctoral study programs to common standards for comparing education systems implemented in different countries and ensure the creation of doctoral programs taking into consideration the specific character of Global Problems and requirements in experts of the highest qualification for Global Problems solving.

Both Parties mean to support the Association of International Higher Attestation Committees and Commissions (AIHACC) aimed at recognition of qualifications in specific field of knowledge and at execution of the Agreements concerning recognition of diplomas and certificates.

Both Parties make a note of great significance of the World Order “Science. Education. Culture” (S.E.C.) aimed at recognition of achievements of the best representatives of culture, science and arts, as well as public figures and statesmen who contributed to the development and promotion of Global Education System. S.E.C. attracts prominent professors, teachers and public figures for training and certification of experts of the highest qualification; creates unified information space on the basis of international cooperation, mergence of scientific knowledge, information interchange and informal relationship between eminent persons of the world. Both Parties make an appeal to professors, teachers, scholars, statesmen, public figures and businessmen to support training of highest qualification experts for Global Problems solving.
